

Finally the common solution for most of the aforementioned problems statements stated can be creating an application as depicted below.

